FAQS

How many treatments should I have?

Although a remarkable difference is seen after the first treatment, the benefits are cumulative and typically a course of 10-15 treatments will be required for optimum results.

What happens after I have finished a course of treatments?

After a course of treatments you will see real improvements in how your skin looks and feels. Your facial contours will look lifted and toned with a fresher, more youthful appearance. A monthly top up treatment is then recommended to maintain results.

What happens if I stop treatments?

It's just like going to the gym for a body workout. If you stop, the results will gradually diminish and your facial muscles may eventually return to how they were before treatments commenced.

Will there be any recovery or downtime after my treatment?

No. All treatments are non-invasive and gentle on the skin so there is no interruption to your lifestyle.

In what circumstances is treatment not advised?

Treatment is not advised if you have any of the following conditions: All forms of cancer, pregnancy, epilepsy, diabetes, heart condition/cardiac pacemaker, thrombosis, facial implants (if treating face), skin disease (avoid area), skin lesions, recent surgery (performed within the last six months), Areas being treated with Botox® (wait three months) or dermal fillers (wait two weeks) should be avoided. Note: Anti-depressants, high blood pressure and other muscle relaxants may reduce the effectiveness of the treatment.

Please note: If you are taking any medication or have an existing medical condition or concern not listed above, please consult with your doctor first.

What is microcurrent?

Microcurrent therapy delivers tiny electrical impulses that mirror the body's own natural bioelectrical field. Microcurrent stimulation helps to re-educate the muscles and can lift, firm and tone. Microcurrent in aesthetics is commonly described as "facial toning" or "non-surgical face lifting" due to the dramatic lifting effect that it has on facial muscles and contours.

What does microcurrent feel like?

Microcurrent treatment is virtually sub-sensory with just a slight tingling sensation. Customers often describe it as an energised or warm sensation on the skin and is virtually painless.

Is microcurrent safe?

Yes. Microcurrent therapy was originally developed as a medical application to treat facial palsy and restore muscle tone by applying tiny microcurrent impulses to the affected muscles. Today this proven technology is now available in thousands of aesthetic clinics worldwide as a painless cosmetic treatment.

What is orbital microdermabrasion?

The orbital rotation of the handpiece performs a progressive and controlled skin exfoliation, removing imperfections and impurities.

A selection of single use, disposable abrasive treatment tips coated with a layer of silicon carbide are used to either superficially or deeply exfoliate the epidermis, resulting in a clearer, smoother and more youthful looking complexion. The CACI orbital microdermabrasion delivers simultaneous LED Light at the same time as the exfoliation to promote healing and skin rejuvenation.

What does orbital microdermabrasion feel like?

This treatment is completely painless. We use a 'no dragging' and 'no pulling' technique on the skin and simultaneous vibrations to make the treatment very comfortable.

What does the Wrinkle Comb feel like?

Some clients may experience an intense tingling sensation, but this can be minimised by applying CACI Amino-Lift Peptide Complex in combination with the Wrinkle Comb.
